Notice : High Priority

As the police are aware of,¹ notary Francis Kessler is – although lacking any documentation on default/breach of contract or the alleged non-payment of a house loan which doesn't exist – preparing a forced sale of our home in Luxembourg.

It has been proven as a fact that documents which should support and give legal authority for a forced sale, doesn't exist. In this regard, please find enclosed a copy of our letters to Kessler of February 14 and February 28 2011 as well as our criminal complaint against Kessler of March 2 2011, explaining and documenting the matter in details.

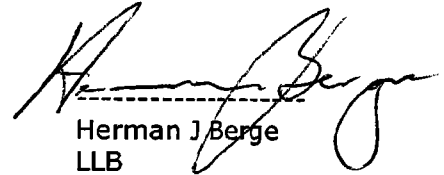

Consequently Kessler is preparing a criminal act against our private property, carried out on instructions from a criminal organization. As Kessler has refused to give us access to any documents in this matter, and to avoid further crimes and damages, we hereby PETITION the public prosecutor to immediately instruct Kessler to give us and the prosecutor access to all documents of which he claims comprises the legal basis for the imminent foreclosure, or – if Kessler can not provide the prosecutor and us with these said documents listed in the criminal complaint of March 2 2011 – order the arrest of Kessler on suspicion of conspiring to commit a crime.

Should the prosecutor render the abovementioned actions as lawful in Luxembourg, we then petition the public prosecutor to – without further due – refer this petition, related to the investigation of gross financial cross-border² crimes, to Eurojust, as a request for assistance.

² We remind the public prosecutor that all (but one) agreements between the bank and us have been entered into while we lived in Norway.
